Detailed Course Outline

The basic principles of minute taking.

Participants review the different type of minutes that can be taken, the reasoning behind each and the function of minutes.

Getting prepared for the meeting

A review of the elements that should be considered prior to a meeting where you are due to take minutes. Focusing on any discussions you might need to have with relevant people and the information that should be covered. There is also a focus on the different roles of people in the meeting and how this relates to the minute taker.

Agenda preparation

Understanding what makes for a well-planned, effective agenda.

Good listening skills.

This is crucial to minute taking and so this session reviews the listening skills of the participants, looks at what barriers there might be to actively listening during meetings and how to overcome these. There is also a review of how to work back from a decision to identify the important elements to record.

Note taking

A review of all the different methods of note taking, the benefits and pitfalls to each and identifying the best type to use.

Writing the minutes.

A practical examination of the structure and layout of minutes.

The ABC of good writing.

Providing a structured approach to ensuring the minutes are written well and are: Accurate, Brief and Clear.

Narrative minutes

A series of exercises to test and improve narrative writing skills. Finally focusing on how to create an Introduction, Summary, Decision and Action.

Preparing for minute taking practical.

A chance to prepare for the practical simulation of a meeting where they will take minutes.

Minute taking practical
